Welcome to our lock down newsletter. We have all been super impressed with all the children this week. The teachers have said that the children are producing fantastic work on Google Classroom and have adapted really well to the new home learning day.

To recognise the children's achievements we would like our families to nominate their stars of the week. The nominations can be for anything. Maybe your child has produced a fabulous piece of work, a super drawing, cooked a delicious cake or has shown an act of kindness!

Please email the office your pictures, with a short blurb explaining why you are nominating your child and we will do our best to include as many as possible each week.

STARS OF THE WEEK

Ronan 5F

'My husband and I are incredibly proud of how Ronan has performed in his online learning, especially during an anxious time of lockdown. He has shown great maturity, strength and optimism, during very difficult times.' Ronan's Mum & Dad

Well done Ronan –we are super proud of you too!

Alexander Y2

Alexander has been nominated by his mum. She said that he has been a super-star this week and since lockdown started. Not only has he done the schoolwork assignments but he has built these Ninjabots in his spare time. An aspiring photographer, Alex took this photograph himself, ensuring that the lighting and set up was perfect to showcase his Lego creation. Well done Alex - fabulous photo!

This week's birthdays:

Theo (Rec)

Shay (Y3)

Elena (Rec)

Jevaun (Y4)

Jeremiah (Y2)

Melanie (Y5)

Dilara (Y3)

Oliwia (Y6)

Wishing all our birthday children a very Happy Birthday!

Home Learning Fun

Katie (Reception) practising her numbers and looking very happy.

Alberto (Reception) made a crown for his RE lesson to mark the Epiphany.

Archie (Reception) concentrating really hard and completing his workbook.

Future scientists Dylan (Y1) and his little sister completing a science experiment.

Jack (Y1) and Amelia (Rec) enjoying yoga fitness.

Liam (Y1) reused an old timber plank from the garden for the canvas and by using water paint he has created this piece of art.

Ava really enjoying drawing with Rob this morning as part of her Art lesson. She is really a fab artist and is learning new drawing skills all the time.
